IS PORTSMOUTH DOING ITS DUTY?

Thousands Seek Homes Here and We Remain Silent

Portsmouth has not as yet done its duty in regard to proper treatment of the housing needs here. It is losing an opportunity to render a great service in time of National need and at the same time put the city on a sound footing for the future.

A thousand homes are needed and The Herald has pointed this out to the people here for the past year. The editor has placed the facts before the authorities in Washington several times and they have said in each case Portsmouth must do something to help itself. The men working in the plants here want to live in Portsmouth—they do not want to be housed twenty miles from here, but desire to move here. In the case of personal interviews at one plant some eight hundred answered that they wanted to live in Portsmouth. It would not take our citizens long to start a real movement and put hundreds of men to work building homes. It is Portsmouth's opportunity and our citizens should forget every other thing and prepare to do what we can and should do to properly house from two to three thousand men with their families. Tent life cannot continue much longer at Newington or in other sections this year. Thousands of workers are knocking at our door begging us to take them in and to tell them to go to other cities and towns and to railroad daily to and from their work does not measure up to the requirements of a live city. Let's prove that we can take proper care of every family that wishes to join us.

(By Associated Press)

THE WEATHER

Washington, Sept. 19.—Fair tonight and probably Friday. Moderate south and southwest winds.

(By Associated Press)

London, Sept. 19.—The British last night made further progress in their drive into the Hindenburg line in the St. Quentin region aimed at the encirclement of that town. In a continued advance north of Pontault they reached the outpost positions of the Hindenburg line. Later they renewed their attack and carried the Hindenburg outposts and captured many prisoners and a number of machine guns. The town of Lempere was captured as was Gueuche wood. Lempere is four miles directly west of Le Cateau. The Germans late yesterday started a heavy bombardment on the northern part of the battle front southwest of Cambrai between Gouzeaucourt and the Arras-Cambrai road. The fire was of extreme intensity. The enemy followed his bombardment by a strong infantry attack on a wide front northward from the vicinity of Tresscault. He was completely repulsed at all points with great loss.

The British troops in desperate fighting are plunging further into the Hindenburg line north of St. Quentin, while west of Cambrai they have withstood vicious German counter attacks. The enemy is making every effort to retain his position on the 30-mile front and to check new allied moves which threaten both St. Quentin and Cambrai. In Macedonia the Bulgarians are in flight northward before the Serbians and the French. Hurled from important heights the enemy now has been forced back 12 miles. How serious was the menace of the security of the Hindenburg line by the British thrust north of St. Quentin is shown by the strong counter attack the Germans have thrown against British lines from Gouzeaucourt to the Arras-Cambrai road, thus extending the battle line nearly 12 miles to the northward. On the front attack Wednesday the British are pushing ahead against bitter resistance toward the St. Quentin-Cambrai high road, railway and canal, three important enemy defense lines. Several thousand yards of the Hindenburg outpost lines were in the hands of the British this morning in the Villers sector, southwest of Le Cateau.

BULGARIANS DEFEATED AND IN FLIGHT

(By Associated Press)
London, Sept. 19.—The Bulgarians are in flight in Macedonia and are burning stores and villages according to a Serbian official statement received here. The allied troops have now advanced more than 12 miles and their progress is so rapid that they have not been able to count the prisoners and war material taken. New regiments thrown in by the Bulgarians have been defeated completely and the Serbian troops are pursuing them day and night.

FEAR OF YANKS AND BAD FOOD DEPRESS BOCHER

(By Associated Press)
With the American Army on the Lorraine Front, Wednesday, Sept. 18.—Fear lest the Americans advance and overwhelm them, bitter complaints of bad food and a general despondency at the prospects of the war are the keynote of letters written home by German soldiers and found on their persons when captured.

There's more than usual economy in buying a suit this fall

Notwithstanding the prices are higher there's real quality and good value that will make the purchase an economical one. The fabrics are pure today, later they cannot be. The workmanship is of the very best; scarcity of skilled labor is bound to be noticed in later designs; and the linings are high grade and most serviceable. Our new models reflect the latest accepted fashions and are practical in the extreme. Taupe, brown, grey, and navy are favorites for color, with the usual good selection in black. There are several with trimmings of fur that are decidedly rich in effect. Prices range from $32.50 to $75.00.

New Fall and Winter Coats; Waists in Beautiful Models; Sweaters for every use and occasion.

JUST DAVID
By ELEANOR H. PORTER
Author of "Follyanna"

Ten year old David and his father (a famous violinist) lived on a mountain, with the woods, the wild things, and their two violins. Then a change came and David was left to the care of gruff farmer folk in whom the warmth of kindness was buried deep. But "Just David" brought music and sunshine into many lives and played a part in a very pretty romance.

DELEGATES ELECTED FOR SENATORIAL CONVENTION

Spaulding Ticket Defeated in Ward Two -- Moses Seems to Have Delegates

The Republicans in the various wards elected their delegates to the convention which will nominate a candidate for the United States senate on Sept. 27. While the delegates were unpledged it is generally understood that practically all are for George H. Moses, and many are openly pledged for him.

There was only one opposition ticket. In Ward Two there was a ticket that was pledged for Spaulding, but it was defeated more than two to one.

In all of the wards the caucus was held from five to seven o'clock, unusual hours with the result that many people who would have voted found the polling places closed after seven o'clock. The vote was light, there being no contest and combined with the heavy rain made the voters unwilling to come out.

In Ward Two, where there was a contest, the regular ward committee ticket was known as the Moses ticket while the other was the Spaulding and the Moses ticket, so called, although unpledged, was elected.

The delegates elected were: Ward One—Henry P. Payne, Charles E. Lewis, Thomas Enright and George H. Sanderson. Alternates, R. L. Hett, E. P. Stoddard, Simon Frink and Eben Blaisdell.

Ward Two—Col. A. E. Howard, Harry D. Yeaton, W. A. Hodgson, Albert Hilsop, Freeman R. Gairrett and Fred H. Ward.

The opposition ticket that was defeated by a vote of 39 to 17 was: H. E. Boynton, C. A. Duncan, E. A. Goudy, George A. Wood, C. W. Gray and E. L. Patterson.

Ward Three—Thomas A. Ward, Charles W. Harn, John G. Yarwood and Ceylon Spence. Alternates, R. C. Margeson, James W. Schurman, Arthur M. Clark and Ray B. Foye.

Ward Four—William J. Cater and Leslie Norriss. Alternates, John W. Newell and Edward S. Downs.

Ward Five—Elmer Clark and Dr. E. B. Eastman. Alternates, Robert Lear and John W. Simard.

N. H. COLLEGE A TO H PUPILS BEGIN SEPT. 25

New Hampshire College, Durham, N. H., Sept. 12.—All former male students and those new male students who are candidates for the Students' Army Training Corps and whose surnames begin with the letters A to H inclusive will be asked to report at New Hampshire College on September 25, and all other new male students on September 27, according to a new ruling made by college authorities today.

This change is necessary because of the difficulty of handling the large number of men who are entering. The women will report October 1 as originally planned.

Graduates of colleges seem to be eligible for admission to the collegiate section of the Students' Army Training Corps according to an interpretation made by the college authorities here today.

"I can see nothing in the regulations of the War Department which would prohibit a man who had graduated from college from returning for special training provided through the organization of the S. A. T. C.," said President Hessel.

"The regulations state that any male person between 18 and 45 years of age, physically fit and having at least four years of high school training may be admitted. It is my understanding that the War Department is anxious to have mature men available as officers and, consequently, this would seem to me to be in harmony with the general policy."

Plans are being perfected as rapidly as possible for receiving the men here the first of next week. All fraternity houses have been taken over and are being rapidly converted into military barracks.

Mr. Blake is a graduate from Dartmouth in 1907 and has taught in Detroit University school and St. Paul's school at Garden City, Long Island.

Mr. Harper has been prominent in musical circles in Boston and hopes, if possible to form a military band this year. Mr. Couss holds an A. B. from Princeton and an A. M. from Harvard and has been an instructor at the Kinsley school at Lawrenceville and at Noble and Greenough school. Mr. Williams is an alumnus of Harvard where he was graduated in 1912 and has taught at the Hartford high school and at Groton. Harvard was also the alma mater of Mr. Stevens who since his graduation in 1897 has been much interested in school-boy rowing.

The school battalion work starts on Monday. Drills will be combined with athletics and each form of physical development take three days a week. Varsity football men will not be required to drill. The present football schedule is undecided but Mr. Blake is to develop a first class team, although few if any of the "B" men have returned to school.

REPUBLICAN ADOPT PLATFORM

Pledged to Carry on the War Until Germany is Defeated

Concord, Sept. 18.—The Republican convention here today for the coming year, and not by adoption of a party platform, pledged promise to the nation and the government at Washington the hearty support of the New Hampshire Republicans in a vigorous prosecution of the war that will bring peace by victory and not by every red blooded American patriot, compromise.

The answer of the president to the "spurious Austrian peace proposal" the passage of all important war measures, when the leaders of the "We are not too proud to fight" Democratic party, failed him or gave support to the platform. "For the sake of him reluctant support. In this world all humankind in the years to come, war no political party has a monopoly we are profoundly thankful that we of patriotism were not kept out of war."

Support was pledged to the American ship of Governor Koyes, and by the can himself abroad and a generous unanimous action of the legislature, recognition promised upon their re-early prepared for war, and she has turned of their service and sacrifice, generously responded to every call of the federal government and through and attention to the Republican her Republican delegation in Congress support of war measures in Congress, has loyally supported the administration when Democratic leaders failed or lapsed in all war policies.

"We endorse the nominations made by the platform endorses the prohibition by the party, urge upon the voters an amendment to the constitution united effort to secure their triumph and oppose any impairment of the election, and favor the shortest possible prohibitory law."

The convention adopted resolutions "For the winning of the war and of throw on the death of United for the advance of civilization after States Senator Jacob H. Gallinger and the war, we endorse the prohibitory amendment of the United States Congress. In the meantime, state property, delivered the principal address, attention should not be impaired. They Save Wheat

OLD TIME INDUSTRIES OF PORTSMOUTH

Written for Strawberry Bank
Grange by Mrs. C. E.
Hodgdon, Sept. 12.

The employment of the people of New Hampshire are as varied as the surface of the country in which they live. Nearly fifty years ago it was written that New Hampshire manufactured one hundred and forty-eight different kinds of goods. In Portsmouth the Keegan Mills manufactured saws, and later, spool cotton. The capital of the company was $500,000 and it employed nearly 400 persons. It was nearly destroyed by fire in 1880 and afterward remodeled and used as a machine shop, where wheat and corn ground $116,000; leather tanned $20,000; boots, shoes and slippers $40,000; clothing $100,000; foundry and machinery $40,000; God liver oil $8,000; stone and marble work $30,000; gas, $30,000; bakery $31,000; ship building $66,000; soap and candles $12,000; linens $18,000; printing $66,000; glass, clear, glass, brass foundry, patent grinders, anchors, furniture, doors, wash and blinds, carriages, coopering, masts and spars, tents and awnings and various other small shops. The total capital invested in manufacturing was $1,427,000, giving employment to 1,925 persons; annual value of production, $2,014,500.

The receipts from commerce, and fishing at this time, 1872, were no doubt several hundred thousand dollars annually.

On July 4, 1873, the sons and daughters of Portsmouth celebrated the 25th anniversary since the first permanent settlement was commenced. Almost every city and almost every section of the country was represented in the great meeting of the natives of this ancient town.

It was the largest and most important gathering of people ever held in this city of Portsmouth, and was considered a success. There was a time when the rope walk was the only imposing factory building any town in New England presented. Our cotton and woolen fabrics were either imported or woven at the homestead. But spinning. Before the Revolution two rope walks occupied the site of the present railroad station, extending from Vaughan street to the North Pond. They remained in use until after the war of 1812, and one of them was carried on for several years longer. It was here that the ropes for the 74-gun ship "Washington" were made, and it is related that the mammoth cables were conducted to the wharf on the shoulders of a company of eighty sailors.

The Washington's keel was laid in March, 1813, two of the old sheds having been removed to make room for it on the ways. Work was pushed and progressed very rapidly on her, and in September she was well advanced. She was named, Sept. 22, by the Secretary of the Navy, the "Washington," and was launched in July, 1815, after peace had been declared with Great Britain. The launching of so large a ship, a "74," was an event of uncommon occurrence, and thousands of persons were attracted to witness it. On the day of the launching the weather was fine and the shores were lined with an enthusiastic multitude. As the great ship began to move, the cheers were deafening, the band played a national air, while the cannon from the neighboring forts sent their reverberations over the surrounding hills. Commodore Chauncey stood upon the bows, directing the launching. The Washington was fitted out immediately as the flagship of Commodore Chauncey, ordered to command our squadron in the Mediterranean. She sailed for Europe in October where she remained as the flagship of the squadron until 1818, when she returned to New York. It was her first and only cruise after being laid up and also the receiving ship for recruits, was broken up in 1843. Such was the brief and uneventful history of the third line of battle ship launched within the United States, the first being the America, built at Portsmouth, the second the Independence, built in Boston, which was raised to a 54-gun frigate doing service as a receiving ship at Mare Island, California, 1877, and the third, the Washington.

The Washington was built by contract by Messrs. Hodge and Magraw, the government furnishing the materials at a cost of $435,000.

Tables were extended to the length of 600 feet through this decorated walk and 700 people were banqueting at a public dinner July 4, 1812. The 800-ft. ropewalk on the southern borders of the South Pond in the War of 1812 was used for barracks and in May, 1861, during the administration of Governor Goodwin the 2d N. H. Regiment was quartered here. It was mustered into U. S. service June 8, and marched from Portsmouth, June 20, 1861.

Longfellow has spun out the following happy threads:

"Ships reeling in the breeze,
Wrecks that float o'er unknown seas,
Anchors dragged through frithless sand,
Sea-fog drifting overhead,
And with lessening line and lead
Sailors feeling for the land."

There was also a salt works. Ship-building was an early and soon became an extensive branch of industry, on the Piscataqua. Foreign merchants could build vessels there at a lower price than elsewhere, and it was natural that Government should avail itself of the facilities it offered for the construction of vessels of war. Surveys were made of the harbor, and as early as 1450 there are records of timber for masts being selected and marked with the "broad arrow" as the property of the Crown.

In 1689, forty-nine vessels entered the harbor of Portsmouth. The Faulkland, a 64-gun ship, built in 1680 by John Taylor, by order of the British Government, for the Royal Navy, was the first ship of war built on this side of the Atlantic and carried in full complement 226 men and 64 guns. The Royal Oak, a British ship of 74 guns, was also built at Lay Cleave Island and was launched in 1691, 1,107 tons. The ship was an object of great importance and was attended by all persons of both sexes residing in the vicinity, who expected an ample supply of good cheer, rum for the men and wine for the women. The Bedford was added to the navy May 3, 1897, 372 tons displacement and carried 135 men. It was later converted into a fire ship. The Charles, 22, was one of Sir George Boscawen's squadron in the Mediterranean in 1704. Capt. William Kidd sailed in the Charles in 1709. The Mary (Kelsey) was called a snow, which was probably the type of these vessels. This was a camouflaged to deceive the enemy. In 1749 the America, 44, launched at the north end of the town May 4, was the third vessel of war of which we have any knowledge built at Portsmouth. A model of her is preserved in the cabinet of the Portsmouth Athenaeum and is beautiful workmanship.

We have account of no other ships of war being built at Portsmouth, for the Royal Navy, but the harbor continued to be a favorite resort for its cruisers. When it became apparent that it was necessary to build a navy to protect the colonies and their seaboard the advantages of Portsmouth for a naval station were so obvious that measures were at once taken for the building and equipping of ships for the Continental navy. The access to the harbor is easy, the road is immense, there are 7 fathoms of water as far up as two miles above the town, the harbor never freezes, owing to the rapidity of the current. The first ship built for the Continental navy was the Raleigh, 32. The keel was laid at the north end of Hinde's wharf on the 21st of March, 1776, and she was launched May 21, having been completed in just 60 days from the laying of her keel.

The next ship built at Portsmouth was the Ranger, a sloop of war mounting 16 or 18 six-pounders. She was built upon the same blocks as the Raleigh and was launched just a year after that ship, in May, 1777. This vessel is identified with the fame of Paul Jones, who was its commander. This was the first ship to carry the Stars and Stripes, a flag which was made by some of the young ladies of this city of pieces of their best silk gowns for Paul Jones. He raised this flag on the Ranger July 4, 1777, thus placing her in commission. He was the first to show America's new flag to the foreign nations; the first to receive a salute in Quiberon Bay, France, by the Stars and Stripes of the United States of America, on the 14th of February, 1780. Jones was unable to get the Ranger equipped until November first, when he sailed for Nantes and made the passage in 30 days. In the action between the Ranger and the Drake on April 24, 1778, the American Stars were displayed. This is the first recorded action and first victory fought under the new constellation.

The Ranger was captured and burned at the surrender of Charles-town, S. C., to Sir Henry Clinton, in 1780, while commanded by Capt. Simpson. Jones returned to Portsmouth and superintended the construction of the America and after using much energy in overcoming obstacles, accomplished the launching Nov. 6, 1782. Jones was appointed to command her but a French ship was struck by lightning in Boston harbor and policy and perhaps equity rendered it expedient for Congress to present to France their solitary ship of the line. She was beautifully built and an honor to Piscataqua shipwrights and to our coast.

No other national ships were built in Portsmouth during the period of the Revolution, but probably more than one private armed ship was constructed. The Hercules is mentioned as later falling into the hands of the British and being sold at Halifax, N. S., in 1781.

SHIPYARD WOMEN MAKE GOOD

Women are making such progress in work in British shipyards that demand for workers is now most insistent. Seven hundred women are now working in Lord Furness's shipyard on the Tees. Some have been assisting in the building of a temporary railway and others are laying concrete platforms on which the keels of ships will be put down.

Mr. Taft on the War.

One of the big men of the country is ex-President William Howard Taft. He is large physically, solid mentally and sound morally. And especially sound and sensible was the speech he delivered on Boston Common Sunday afternoon to a gathering of more than 30,000 people who were aroused to the highest pitch of enthusiasm by the sentiments he expressed in the manner in which he expressed them.

It was a war talk, and the right kind of a war talk. He declared that the war has got to be fought to "a knockout for Germany," and that one of the things to be guarded against is anything and everything in the form of peace by negotiation. "You can't negotiate with Germany," said Mr. Taft. "You've got to lick her." In this statement he was in complete agreement with Commander Thomas Mott Osborne of the naval prison, who in an address at the graduating exercises of a State Normal School in Massachusetts last summer remarked in referring to the war that "Germany has got to be whipped until every man, woman and child in Germany knows she is whipped."

Mr. Taft made another good point, a point that for a long time has been very clear to the country in spite of President Wilson's early mistake in regarding the German government and the German people as two separate entities. Said Mr. Taft: "We are fighting the German people as well as William Hohenzollern and the Potsdam gang. The German people have been saturated, obsessed with German militarism. The military successes of the past forty years have given them the belief that militarism is the greatest thing in the world." Mr. Taft repeated that it is impossible to negotiate with Germany, that the only cure for her is a surgical operation which the United States and the Allies must perform. In speaking of the aims of the League to Insure Peace, an organization of which he is the head, Mr. Taft said that Germany would be admitted after she had "brought forth works meet for repentance," and that one of the most convincing of those works would be the removal of the Hohenzollerns.

All in all, this was one of the soundest and most stirring war utterances that have lately been heard. Mr. Taft is naturally a man of peace, but he reads correctly the handwriting on the wall and recognizes that there is only one road to such a peace as the world desires and must have. The power that has brought upon the world this unspeakable upheaval must be humbled and crushed; it must be made to see that the world is not to be ruled by the doctrine of divine right and the mailed fist, but that the nations of the earth must have the right to shape their own destinies in their own ways, so far as they do not trench upon the rights of others, a right and a privilege which will not be denied to Germany after she has "brought forth fruits meet for repentance."

In the meantime there is but one thing to do, and the task is in process of successful accomplishment. Blow must follow blow with ever-increasing force until the brutal power upon which they are rained shall see the error of its way and beg for the only peace that a civilized and outraged world will grant.

Is it really necessary to run 24 special trains about the country loaded with war relics to stimulate the Liberty Loan drive? It ought not to be at a time when there is enough for the railroads to do in the line of regular business. There are many parts of the country, and many parts of New England, that have not yet received their winter supplies of coal.

General Crowder makes it plain that members of Congress are not subject to the draft. But he adds that if any of them are anxious to become so they can do this by simply resigning their seats. However, there are few who will do this, or who should do it. They can do their share toward winning the war by attending strictly to business where they are.

The New England division of the Red Cross is soon to begin a collection of winter clothing for the Belgians. It is to be presumed that the people will be generous notwithstanding the fact that we are on the eve of a New England winter, and that not everybody will be in a position to have a new suit this fall.

The fourth Liberty Loan campaign in this state is to be managed by the same committee that made such a success of the third, and nothing further needs to be said. The work will be in most competent hands and the people can be trusted to rise to the occasion as they have in the past.

We all remember what Mr. Schwab said about the local shipbuilding plants, and now Vice President Piez of the Emergency Fleet Corporation adds similar testimony. Such words are pleasant to hear when it is realized that they are not spoken in flattery, but in the utmost sincerity.

PEOPLE'S OPINIONS

Editor:—
I enclose a clipping from New York Life of August 32nd which I should think might be worth re-printing in your paper. Perhaps the matinee audiences at the theatres this week might take note.

Yours very truly,
A READER.
Gratitude.

There seems to be some hesitation among the American people about standing when the "Marseillaise" of France is played.

One hundred years ago the French helped us gain our liberty from the oppression of a German king upon an English throne. Willingly they sent aid and generously we received it. The two nations have been on the most friendly terms since that time, and now the heroic natures of that great republic are and have been standing for the past four years between us and certain disaster at the hands of the despicable Hun. Why should we not, then, show our appreciation and gratitude by respecting the "Marseillaise" as we do our own national anthem? Let's all stand the next time we hear it, and every time after that. Vive in France!

PREDICTS BIG ARMY FOR JULY

Washington, Sept. 19.—An army of 4,800,000 by next July, after all deductions have been made for casualties and rejections, is what the enlarged American military program calls for. Gen. March explained this to the House appropriations committee today, in discussing the new $7,000,000,000 army estimates.

There are now about 3,200,000 men under arms, and the plan is to register in the colors between now and July, Gen. Crowder estimated that half of these will be obtained from registrants of 19 to 20 years and 32 to 36 years.

AUSTRIANS CLASH WITH GERMANS

Amsterdam, Sept. 19.—Several "heady collisions" have occurred in Belgium between Austrian and German soldiers, according to the Belische Dagblad.

The trouble rose from the fact that the Austrians are being used only for garrison duty while the Germans are being sent to the front. It is estimated that more than 20,000 Austrian soldiers are on garrison duty in Belgium.

LETTERS FROM OVER THERE

The following letter from one of the boys "Over There" is abundant in interest. It was received by A. Z. Leach of this city from his brother, Wendell Phillips. A graphic account of recent conditions is given in the vivid description. He writes as follows:

Aug. 3, 1918.

At The Front.

Dear Brother:—
I received your letter a few days ago which was very welcome. I have been so busy the last few weeks that it was almost impossible to write to anybody. I was in that drive that the French and Americans made from Chateau-Thierry back to where they are now.

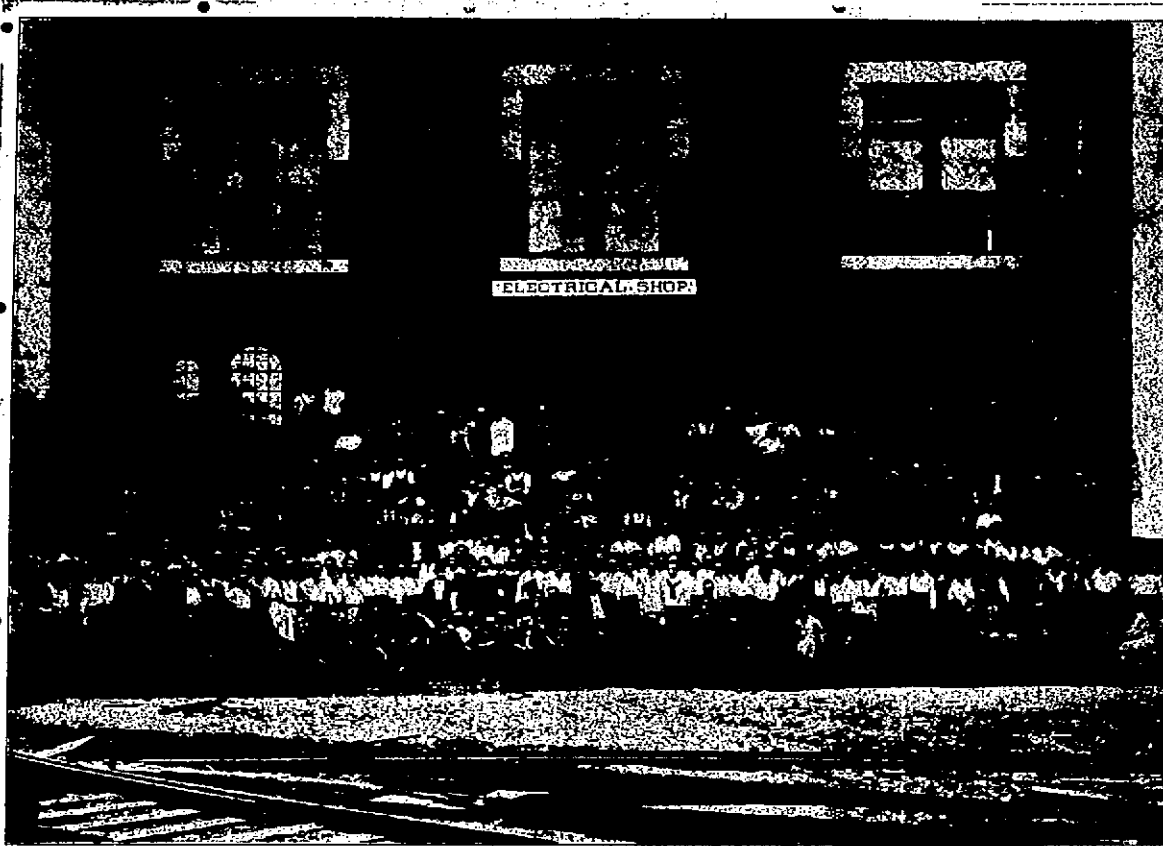

During this drive I have seen sights that I never want to see again. I have seen men blown to pieces that were standing beside me. And I have seen aeroplanes brought to the ground in flames, some were high in the air and some were low.

This drive was mostly open fighting. Of course there were lots of woods but no trenches. I went through one town after the Germans were pushed back and the roads in the town were just yellow with mustard gas, that the Germans sent over but it didn't get many of our fellows. We moved into a large farm house that set in a big field. That very night the Germans started shelling the house. There were lots of horses and wagons around the place. One shell struck a wagon and it went on fire. And there was a fellow leading a horse through the yard. A shell landed in front of him and killed the horse, but never hurt the fellow a bit. In the morning I saw five horses lying dead beside the road and a number of ambulances all smashed up and the road covered with blood. We moved from that place up nearer to the front in the woods. We didn't get shelled so bad there the first night, but the next day the German aeroplanes were over our heads and they were no higher than the tops of the trees. They turned their machine guns on us, and swept over the woods. They got a few of our men but not many. One fellow in the division that was sent to relieve us looked up at him and the aviator threw a bomb at him, but it didn't hit him. And a good thing it didn't because it landed ten feet from him. These potato mashers as we call them are the German hand grenades. There were six German planes in all, and we brought two down, and they got one of ours. Our division was relieved and we moved in the rear for reserves. We stayed there one day, then moved back farther. And now we are out for a rest but I don't know how long it will be.

I haven't seen Walter for some time. I suppose you heard that he was wounded and sent to the hospital, and I haven't had a chance to see him. He was wounded on the Toul sector about June 25th or around that time. I never heard a word about it until I got over on this sector, and then I was so far away that I couldn't go to see him. I won't mind sailing for the States on one of the ships that was launched at the Spittuck shipyard on July 4th. I have seen all that I want of France. All there is up here in the North is mud and rain. I would like to go to England or Jerusalem that's two places I would like to go to. I went down to see George Willard but he was gone away. I saw a fellow of his company and he said that George was fine. I think I have told you all of the news that I can think of. But now don't say a word to mother about Walter being wounded because you know she would only worry about him. He is much better now. I got word from him the other day, so don't tell anybody. You and Mae are the only ones that know it. I will close for this time. I am as ever,
RICHARD PHILLIPS.

Dear Friend Harry:—
I feel old man, I am here in England safe and happy. This is some place. I like here fine. I thought that the boys would like to hear from me. Tell them that I have got the ring on, and when I look at it I think of them. I will have a lot to tell them when I get back to the lodge. I never thought that I would see England, but I am seeing the world all right now. Have any of the other boys that went away written back home to you? Tell Dick that I will write to him when I get time. I only write one letter a day, so some of the boys will have to wait for their turn. We had a big field day here today and we have had games every night. So you see we have some fun with our work. Well, Harry, it is getting late so I will have to close for now. Write when you can. Give my regards to all the boys. I hope that I will see them all soon. Yours in F. C. D.

Engel has been a Manchester resident three years, coming here to lead the Eagle theatre orchestra at the time of the opening of that theatre. He had been a musician in the band of one of the big German liners interned at Boston at the outbreak of the war. He is a talented artist, having played both the violin and piano during the time he has been connected with the local theatre.

MORE DOSES OF SAME MEDICINE

London, Sept. 19.—In reply to the message sent by Premier Lloyd George to General Pershing, congratulating him on the American victory in Lorraine, in which the premier, who received the news on his sick bed, declared it was "better and infinitely more palatable than any physic," the American commander has sent the following telegram:

"Your congratulations are deeply appreciated. It shall be the endeavor of the American army to supply you with occasional doses of the same sort of medicine as needed from now until the final victory has been attained. I trust this will find you fully recovered from your illness."

GOVERNMENT TAKES BOSTON HOSPITAL

Word was received yesterday that the Robert Bent Brigham hospital on Parker Hill, Boston, will be turned over to the army tomorrow. It will henceforth be known as General Hospital No. 10.

It has accommodations for 300 patients, and will be run in conjunction with the Elks Reconstruction Hospital, as soon as the latter is completed.

It was said 150 civilian patients in the chronic ward must be moved out before the army occupies the building. Many, if not all of these patients, will be removed to the State Hospital at Tewksbury.

$2,000 will be made at once and following this morning's decision to undertake the work, well up to $100 was pledged.

Mrs. Alpha Haven Harriman, of Laconia, president of the federation, is chairman of the committee to arrange details and has associated with her Mrs. Charles P. Bancroft, of Concord, Mrs. Dwight Hall of Dover and Mrs. William W. Oliver of Lisbon.

The proposition is the largest concrete piece of work that has been undertaken by the Federation and the spirit in which the suggestion was received, bespeaks a triumphant outcome and fulfillment of the ambition not later than Oct. 1.

WILL RECEIVE COMPLAINTS ON RENT QUESTION

The Committee on Rent Protection met Wednesday afternoon at the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce for the purpose of organizing and dealing upon its method of procedure in handling alleged cases of rent profiteering in this city. Mayor S. T. Ladd was chosen Chairman of the Committee and Secretary E. H. Baker, of the Chamber of Commerce, was named as Secretary. Several cases of drastic increases in rent were referred by this committee and were referred for investigation to a sub-committee composed of Messrs. C. D. Dowd, of the Atlantic Corporation, Assistant Civil Engineer A. E. Fogg, U. S. N., of the Navy Yard, P. A. Phelps, of L. H. Shattuck Co., and Secretary E. H. Baker. This committee will meet at the Chamber of Commerce on Friday at 3:30 p. m. at which time the complaints will be requested to appear and state their cases. The full committee will hold weekly meetings on Wednesday at 3:30 p. m. at the Chamber of Commerce.

The Committee will proceed along the following lines—Complaints of rent profiteering will be considered by the Committee and if there appears any good ground for the complaint, the tenant will be asked to appear and state his case in detail. If the complaint seems to be just, the landlord will be requested to appear, preferably in person. If he refuses to appear for he is under no legal compulsion, or if he refuses to adjust fairly a plain case of selfish and unprofitable rent extortion or other hardship put upon the war worker, the committee, with out comment of any kind will publish the facts so that public opinion itself may pass judgment upon the house owner.

It is probable that when all are convinced of the entire fairness of the committee and its determination to drag abuses into light, ninety percent of all complaints may be settled with out publication of the facts.

Complaints of rent extortion should be put in writing and forwarded to Secretary E. H. Baker, of the Chamber of Commerce.

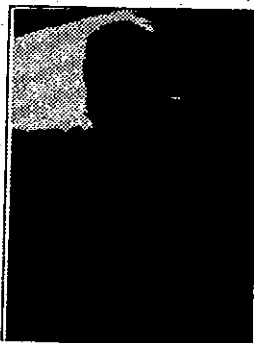

MARVIN TO ENTERTAIN.

The democrats of Ward 3 are to have a social session on a nearby date when Oliver Marvin, candidate for senator in the 24th district will entertain the party voters at the headquarters on Bartlett street.

BELGIUM IS NAKED

Belgium's plight is desperate. Germany has requisitioned all clothing, woolen, linen, hosiery, curtains, blankets and carpets in all shops. Ten million persons living in occupied Belgium and northern France are dependent on the Commission for Relief in Belgium for clothing and food. This clothing can come from America only. Five thousand tons are needed to clad Belgium through the coming winter. Securing the clothing is a matter of life and death for this helpless, courageous population behind the German lines.

In Belgium it is impossible to buy shoes. There is no more leather of any description on the market. Every available substitute has been tried. For a time old belting from factories was used, and roofing paper, of which there happened to be a stock, was resorted to for re-soles. But the Germans, after having seized all the leather, requisitioned the substitutes also, and soon not a single yard of belting was left in any Belgian industrial establishment. Now the Belgians fasten pieces of old rugs on to wooden soles and wear them for shoes. And they make coats out of old blankets and blankets out of anything.

THE HERALD HEARS

That politicians are getting quite busy.

That the veteran firemen are not likely to be seen at the Rochester fair in a body this year.

That some of the Atlantic police have taken inside jobs in the shops at the plant.

That the place where the tank steamers for the Standard Oil Co. are to build is a question.

That the membership of social and secret organizations is greatly increasing in this city.

That as long as junk is bringing big money why not dispose of the fire department ladder truck?

That the war has certainly caused some changes at city hall.

That one of the trains from this city to the navy yard this morning carried 1325 passengers in 15 cars.

That another clergyman of the Manchester diocese, Rev. Father McCarthy of Claremont, has made application for war service in France.

That the police picked up three runaway boys from Everett, Mass., today.

That the Shipping Board announces the delivery of 25 ships in 13 days during August.

It'd rather have the Herald than any Boston paper—how many times one hears that remark. The Herald leads never follows.

IT'S NOT YOUR HEART; IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS

Kidney disease is no respecter of persons. It attacks all classes, regardless of age, sex or conditions. A MEDAL HAARLEM OIL Capsules immediately. The soothing, healing oil day can be traced back to the kidney trouble.

The kidneys are the most important organs of the body. They are the filters, the purifiers, of your blood. If the poisons which are swept from the tissues by the blood are not eliminated through the kidneys, disease of one form or another will claim you as a victim.

Kidney disease is usually indicated by: weakness, sleeplessness, nervousness, drowsiness, backache, stomach trouble, difficulty when urinating, pain in joints and lower abdomen, bad stones, gravel, rheumatism, eczema and lumbago.

All these derangements are nature's method of telling you that your kidneys are not doing their duty.

"FORDS"

Now that new Ford Cars are scarce the next best thing to do is to have your present car put in good running order. With a little care and very small expenditures you can keep your car up to date and in good mechanical order. But when you have these things attended to be sure and insist on getting genuine Ford parts. There are many substitutes and imitations and they are all supposed to be just as good but if your car is worth spending any money on it at all, why not use a little care and see that it is repaired right by using genuine Ford parts manufactured by the Ford Motor Co. of Detroit.

We have a large supply of parts in stock ready for immediate use.

A hearing in the case in Superior court has been set for Monday, Sept. 23.

Major Waldron, council, Royal Arcanum, held an old-time union meeting last evening, entertaining large delegations of visiting brothers from Portsmouth, Somersworth, Exeter and Rochester. Supreme Orator Hoadley of New Haven, Conn., was present and gave one of the most interesting talks that it has been the good fortune of the visiting and local councils to hear for a long time. "Grand Regent, Morrison of Gotham, also gave an interesting talk and plans were discussed to enlarge the grand jurisdiction of New members. After the meeting, refreshments were served and a jolly social hour was enjoyed by all.

A very interesting letter from Carroll D. Nash, who is with the colors, states that he is now stationed at Edgewood (Maryland) arsenal. ROCHESTER

Rochester, Sept. 19.—Quite a heavy thunder shower passed over towns north of this city Tuesday afternoon, and at New Bridge, Milton, (Lebanon side), the summer residence of T. P. Morton of Somersworth was struck by lightning and totally consumed, together with the contents. The most of the summer colony at that place have closed their cottages. There was a loss of $1800 partly covered by insurance. The lightning did no damage in this city, but interfered with the electric car time schedule.

Miss Thelma Tebbetts of East Rochester employed at the N. H. Thayer shoe factory, met with an accident Wednesday afternoon. She was operating a sewing machine in the cutting room, in which she caught her hand, severely lacerating it.

Cases of Spanish influenza, which has been prevalent at Camp Devens, are reported in this city.

A series of evangelistic meetings are being conducted in the East Rochester Advent church by Rev. Frank J. Davis of Canaan, and there is a large attendance. Mrs. Davis is also taking part in the exercises.

Tenant Frank O'Brien, son of Mrs. Adeline Smart of Academy street, has arrived safely in France.

Rev. P. K. Amazeen of Dover has been assigned the pastorate of the Bow Lake and Stratford Ridge Free Baptist church. He and his wife will occupy the Stratford Ridge parsonage.

Joseph Powers of Roxbury, Mass., in the United States Medical corps, has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Sumner B. Morton of North Main street.

OBSEQUIES

Mary Izette Holmes.
The funeral services of Mary Izette Holmes were held at the Congregational church in Greenland Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock and were conducted by Rev. Fred Sumner, pastor of the church. The bearers were Edward M. Holmes, Arnold N. Holmes, William Allen Odell and Charles H. Brackett. Mrs. Thornton Weeks sang "O Eyes That Are Weary" and "Abide With Me." Interment was in the family lot in Greenland cemetery under direction of J. Verne Wood.

LOCAL MEMBERS IDEAL HOSTS

The Silver Club, composed of the lumber salesmen and big dealers of New England, were the guests on Wednesday of the two local members, Robert I. Singden and Boardman M. Randall, at the Portsmouth Country Club. Despite the rain it was a very enjoyable meeting and there was a good attendance of the members. Golf was played during the forenoon and at 1 o'clock a shore dinner was served of steamed clams, lobsters, broiled sweet potatoes, corn, rolls, ice cream, cake and coffee. Hurten centering. Several of the members of the club were also guests. More golf even in the rain was played in the afternoon and at 6 o'clock a light lunch was served before the members motored to their homes.

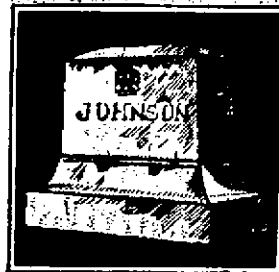

MORE GERMAN BLUFF ISSUED

Amsterdam, Sept. 19.—Washington despatches indicating the attitude of the American government as to the Austrian peace offer, are prominently displayed in all German newspapers. "This precipitate rejection of the Vienna proposal does not surprise us," says the semi-official Norddeutsche Allgemeine Zeitung. "The Americans want to take the lead. Now as before, they preach force, which is to lay Europe in ruins. We shall have to wait to see whether America's allies will allow themselves to become intoxicated with this doctrine of force or whether there will be recognition of the fact that an internationally protracted war will lead Europe to ruin and leave only one claimant to the bankrupt estate."

EIGHT-HOUR DAY APPLIED TO LABOR DISPUTES

(By Associated Press)
 New York, Sept. 18.—The general application of the basic eight hour day as the hours of labor approved by the Labor Board in settling labor disputes, was forecasted by Frank P. Walsh, joint chairman of the Board, in announcing this evening the decision of Chief Justice Walter Clark, who was the umpire between the Molders and Foundry Company, Justice Clark ruled that in the future that eight hours would be a day's work and that only necessary overtime would be done, that the question of whether it was necessary would be determined by a committee of four. In announcing the decision Mr. Walsh said that it would be a strong precedent for the future settlement of hours of labor in strike disputes.

TALK RELIGION SAY SOLDIERS TO CHAPLAIN

London, Sept. 18.—Uncle Sam's fighters, an American army chaplain finds, are eager to be talked to about religion, but he says, "you can't fool the boys with pulpit camouflage. Down in their hearts they crave the vital things of life and eternity."

The chaplain was discussing sermons held in the Y. M. C. A. huts. "We usually open," he said, "with fifteen minutes of movies. A venerable preacher asked if that was necessary. He thought it wasn't, and he proposed to put it to men themselves. 'Boys,' he said, 'I've come here to tell you some thing about religion. Would you like to begin right away or would you rather have a movie film first?'"

"A tall, raw-boned soldier stood up in the audience. 'To hell with the movies,' he exclaimed. 'Let's hear about religion.'"

"The boys don't come to be entertained. What they want is to hear the simple, sincere, and elemental truth of religion as the preacher conceives it. There are certain subjects too, it is wise to steer clear of. Don't talk to them about drink and gambling and sex. They hear all they need of that sort of thing from the proper instructors."

"And don't talk about spread-eagle patriotism. They have plenty of patriotism of the real sort. Don't tell them how fine they are, for they've heard that until they are tired of it. Besides, no real man likes to be flattered, and these fellows are real men. Above all else, when your horse-sense warns you that the boys are waiting with open hearts for the best comfort that religion can give them, don't tell them funny stories."

"Give them a message straight from God. If you have such a message in you, suppose your son were going away, perhaps never to return. What sort of a message would you give him? That's the message they want, and no other."

The F. C. B. Club on Wednesday evening gave their treasurer, William E. Mercer, who has been called to the colors, a farewell party at their rooms on Congress street. There was a good attendance of the members and a chicken salad supper with all of the fixings was served.

Music was furnished by the Lyric Quartette composed of Hartford, Ward Hildrick and Shaw. They sang several original songs composed for the occasion. Remarks were made by President T. J. Massey, Colonel John H. Bartlett, Richard Weston, Harry H. Foote, John Carpi and others. The gathering was full of patriotism and the members in whose honor the dinner was given were cheered many times.

MACHINE BREAKS THROUGH THREE OF THE BRIDGES

Lumber Laden Truck Has Much Trouble on Way to Navy Yard.

A large automobile truck owned by Cressey and Company of Boston had all kinds of trouble on its way from this city to the navy yard on Wednesday. The truck had on a heavy load of finished lumber for a contracting firm at the yard and had not reached its destination up to this morning.

In passing over the Portsmouth and Kittery bridge the weight caused the breaking of fifteen planks on the highway but managed to get clear and run into more bridge trouble. One wheel went through the bridge over the main line of the B. and N. near Kittery Junction station and after much work the driver succeeded in getting away only to get stalled on the next bridge which crosses over the York Harbor and Beach railroad. Here the wheels crushed the planking and dropped through in such a way as to block the traffic. Owing to the fine quality of the wood the driver could not unload it in the rain and not until this morning was the auto cleared by workmen from the navy yard, who transferred the material to one of the yard trucks. The Boston truck is said to have had on 6 or 8 tons.

ENGINEER SAW THE AUTO JUST IN TIME

Man in Machine Takes Desperate Chance on Noble's Island Crossing.

A driver of an automobile on Noble's Island on Wednesday afternoon came very near meeting death in his reckless attempt to cross the tracks of the B. & N. railroad, ahead of a passenger train from Dover. He passed five other machines standing in the highway and got on the track just as the train got within a short distance from the crossing. The gate tender had closed one gate on the bridge and before he could close the opposite gate the machine rushed onto the track.

The engineer of the train got sight of him just in time and applied the emergency brakes bringing the train to a quick stop.

The anxiety of auto drivers at this point to beat out trains is seen most every day and such careless driving will end in a bad accident; if the practice is not stopped.

OUR PICTURE GALLERY A HIT

The Herald's pictures of our boys serving under the Stars and Stripes, which is being run daily is making a decided hit. Relatives of the soldier and sailor lads are sending the pictures to the boys in camp and on ships, while a number of people are making collections of these pictures and sketches. An endeavor is being made to run the pictures somewhere near the order in which they have come to this office but this plan cannot be carried out wholly for several reasons. The editor is holding back several photographs which were sent by unmarked, while waiting to have these identified; one of these is a soldier in standing position, a good sized photograph taken at one of the Sol Young studios. Another picture unmarked is that of a member of the Marine Corps.

Kindly have the name and address written plainly on the back of the photograph and with it send a brief sketch. The owners may have the pictures back after they have appeared in the Herald. Send in the clearest picture you have of your soldier or sailor lad to get the best results.

FORMER POLICE OFFICER SMART DIES IN BOSTON

Was Ill Only a Few Days at St. Elizabeth's Hospital.

The sad news of the death of Christopher Smart Jr., a former member of the police force was received here today by his parents at the family home on Mt. Vernon street.

His death followed a case of Spanish influenza which developed into pneumonia and occurred at the St. Elizabeth hospital, Boston. He had been ill but a few days.

His death is keenly felt by his many friends and acquaintances in this city especially in the police department from which he resigned to enter the service of his country. He enlisted in the reserve corps in February and was assigned to the training camp at Hingham, later he was transferred to Bumpkin Island and recently from there to the Commonwealth Pier.

He was appointed as a driver of the police patrol wagon on Nov. 13, 1915 and later was transferred as patrolman. Previous to entering the police department he followed the work of chauffeur and for a short time was a clerk at the market of the late John Holland. Deceased was 26 years of age and is survived by his parents, one brother Roland and a sister, Mrs. Arthur Sawyer.
